INTEGRITY ASSESSMENTS INVESTIGATIONS

Dr. Celvin G. Walwyn, Ph.D.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR & LEAD INVESTIGATOR

A former police chief who knows how the State builds its case, and where it's weak.

BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Celvin G. Walwyn has spent nearly four decades in law enforcement, including command service as Commissioner of Police for the Federation of St. Kitts and Nevis, Deputy Commissioner of Police Operations with the U.S. Virgin Islands Police Department, and Chief of Police in Texas.

He now leads Integrity Assessments Investigations (IAI), a Texas-licensed private investigations firm that works for criminal defense attorneys in the Southern District of Texas, Harris County, and Fort Bend County.

Dr. Walwyn wrote and enforced the kinds of policies he now reviews for the defense. He knows how an investigation is supposed to be run and where it tends to fall short: which witnesses never get re-interviewed, which shortcuts get taken, and which reports get written after the fact. He compares officer conduct against the agency's own written policies and training standards, and is available as a consultant or expert witness on police procedure, use of force, and investigative conduct.

He holds a Ph.D. in Public Safety Leadership, Summa Cum Laude. He is a Bill Blackwood LEMIT graduate and a Converus-certified EyeDetect examiner, and he conducts interviews in English and Spanish. He maintains an active TCOLE Master Peace Officer License through continuing education, which keeps him current on Texas law as it applies to police officers.

> Once retained, IAI works for the defense and reports only to counsel.
